NEVADA GETS A ROTTEN DEAL

THE jump sum of $30,000,000 was appropriated by the late congress for the improvement of the rivers and harbors in the United States. How much of that sum will be expended in Nevada? Will Genbrook harbor on Lake Tahoe be dredged? Will the Truckee river be made passable for battleships? Once in a long while ago, it will be remembered, the Truckee was meandered by the government from Reno to the mouth of the canyon below that town and declared to be navigable, in order that sewage might be poured into the stream. But how many of these thirty millions will be expended in dredging its channel?

It is more than a joke, it is a tragedy, this neglect of Nevada. Senator Newlands' press agents tell of the wonderful beneficence in the Truckee-Carson project, but every cent that was expended is assessed against the people who take up the lands in the Carson sink, and they are getting to be a sorry lot of people, with requirements placed upon them which they cannot meet, with obligations which they are unable to satisfy. Nevada is known as the "bottle born" state because it came to the front with half a billion dollars in bullion when specie payments were demanded and its votes in senate and house were for the preservation of the republic. Yet it has been kicked about and scuffed at in a manner that it has not deserved.

WANT MUNICIPAL GOVERNMENT LEGAL

IT is understood that quite a number of people who are doing business in Tonopah have decided not to pay their municipal licenses for April on the grounds that this is not a properly incorporated city. If it has a municipal government, the government must be shown how it was brought about, they claiming that it was without their knowledge or consent.

There is a strong feeling here for incorporation, but the people, particularly those who are mulcted for licenses and taxes, want to know how and why. Perhaps the refusal of business men to pay toward the municipal government until an attempt is made to force them to dig up will reveal the manner in which this alleged municipal government was formed, and there also may be steps taken to cause a little disgorging of moneys that were not legally due, but which were collected under duress. Then Tonopah will be in shape to legally incorporate and get some benefits from the money that is now paid to people who have illegally assumed authority.

ALL ARE INVITED TO ATTEND

TOMORROW evening there will be a public meeting in the gymnasium of the Tonopah volunteer fire department, beginning at 7:30, and nobody is barred. This gathering is for the purpose of inaugurating the Tonopah school of mines and all who have signed the applications in the Bonanza office or at the Tonopah hardware store will be enrolled, whether they are present or not, but it is preferred that they be at the meeting.

There will be only a limited number of students enrolled and it is expected that all who take an interest in the movement will be there, particularly the alumni of mining schools and officials of the mining companies, as well as the students. This meeting will be the biggest rally of the year and plentiful seating capacity will be provided for all. The address to be delivered by Dr. Lincoln, dean of the Mackay school of mines, who will have charge, under the supervision of the University of Nevada, of the school, will be a rare and invaluable treat. Let it be repeated that all are invited.

SINKING OF MERCHANTMEN UNJUSTIFIED

ONE feature of this most regrettable, most lamentable, war is the destruction of merchant vessels by submarines and torpedo boats. Scores of vessels, engaged in peaceful trade, carrying food and clothing to nations in need, have been sent to the bottom, unprepared to resist attack. With them have gone hundreds of men who had no partisan feeling in the matter of the world war, but were simply earning their sustenance by pulling on tarred ropes and hoisting the decks. The loss of life and property occasioned through the destruction of merchant marine is appalling and it is growing more terrible day by day as the blockades are closer drawn. Nations that have no interest in the quarrel are as heavy sufferers as those that fly the menacing flags. If war were to be made by warriors against warriors it would not be so inexcusable, but the attacks made upon neutral and peaceable people are not authorized by any section in the international code of laws.

BIG NEWSPAPER SETS BAD EXAMPLE

THE BONANZA consistently fulfills the requirements of a recent enactment by the general government and places "Adv" at the conclusion of any article that is paid for its appearance in these columns. Now, having been fair and law abiding in this matter, this paper wonders why the dailies in the big cities are not equally compliant with the law. On page 35 of the Chronicle which arrived today, and on the fifth column, there appeared an advertisement of a cure for alcoholism. It undoubtedly would be as efficacious as a dose of sage tea, but even at that it should have been properly marked. The rules and regulations of the government are presumed to be inviolable. Then why should such a prominent newspaper evade them, particularly as its editorial columns are alive with articles calling for the fulfillment of the law?

The old Chicago Inter-Ocean building in Chicago has been leased by revivalists. The Lord pity them. If this elevating newspaper could not convert the sinners in the windy city the Bible pounders will have a poor chance, although it is possible that they will gain some little revenue for themselves.

No, it was only a non-intelligent head setter and a purloined proof reader that made the paper say: "Doings in California's Hells of Legislation."

WINGFIELD ERECTS

BIG CREAMERY

The new Churchill creamery building and plant has been practically completed and in this enterprise George Wingfield has given to the farmers of the Fallon district the advantages of the finest creamery plant in the state of Nevada. The creamery is located alongside of the Southern Pacific and a side-track will presently be constructed so cars can be run alongside the building to carry away the product. All of the machinery is operated by a large ten-horse power motor. The plant has a capacity of 10,000 pounds of butter daily, and when it is brought up to its full capacity there will be some milking done in the Lahontan valley, and some cash distributed among the farmers.

The Yankee genius who invented the art of making a whistle out of a pig's tail is eclipsed by the Montana man who announces that he has discovered a process for making candy out of alfalfa—Rochester Democrat.
